Vision

There are no barriers to living successfully with aphasia

Mission

Give hope to people with aphasia and their families by developing and sharing innovative solutions that reduce language barrier to full life participation

Aphasia (uh-fay'-zhuh) is an acquired communication disorder caused by an injury to the brain that affects a person's ability to communicate. It is most often the result of stroke or head injury. Individuals with aphasia may have difficulty expressing themselves when speaking, difficulty understanding the speech of others, and difficulty reading and writing. People with aphasia are intelligent, competent individuals who still have the ability to think and make decisions. Sadly, aphasia often masks a person's intelligence and ability to communicate feelings, thoughts and emotions.
